Agree Republican Will Carry State Despite Fight Over Johnson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—As the horns on half a hundred autonobiles tooted lustily Charles E. Hughes stepped off the gangplank of the ferryboat at the foot of Market street this afternoon into the arms of the San Fran iseo reception committee.

dembers of the local delegation gaspe in amasement when the city's guest ap peared, for on one side of the Republican nines and Mrs. Hughes walked Francia V. Keesling, Republican State chairman, and on the other was Chester Rowell, lieutenant of Hiram W. Johnson Progressive Governor. Just behind came William H. Crocker, Republican National

"Hughes will carry California, what-ever else happens," said Rowell, "The worst this local fight can do is reduce his majority. But recognition by Hughes of Johnson would have a powerful effect of Johnson would have a powerful effect on the Progressives everywhere, Why, Hiram Johnson has more influence in the West than any other 1,000 men you can name. And remember, too, there are 300,000 Progressives in this State who haven't registered under any party emblem this year. Most of them are for Hughes, but some are undecided. If Hughes recognizes Johnson he will get the votes of practically all of them."

Public Service Board Considers Building Crosstown Tunnel in Brooklyn Instead.

The Public Service Commission is considering the abandonment of the plan for the construction of a subway near Nassau street to connect the Centre street loop with the Whitehall-Montague street tunnel to Brooklyn. It is now suggested that the money needed for this project be used to build a crossiown subway in Brooklyn.

The matter was taken up by Commissioners Henry Hodge, Travis Whitney and Charles Hervey at yesterday's meeting, and was taken under advisement pending a conference with officials of the New York Municipal Railway Corporation as to an amendment to contract No. 4, under which the Nassau street tunnel is planned.
